The table size of Joomla 2.5 is increasing by 10MB per month. While I have found the solution for the database problem, I could not find the solution to reduce the size of the table. My table size is only increasing by 10MB per month. Here is the table size information: The size of my table increased from 8.52 MB to 10.07 MB. This is a problem for me. How do I reduce the size of this table? A: You have to increase the storage of the table options in

PhpMyAdmin. The storage of the sphinx_table_option has to be increased to 4 GB by default. I recommend that you have a look on this blogpost that has all the information about this topic. Civilization is back in Singapore and it's on a whole new platform. And as if that weren't enough, players can look forward to having to build a culture, a city and an army in this new build of Sid Meier's Civilization V. I had a chance to play some of the early beta build and can say that it looks amazing, but a lot is still work in progress. I was given the chance to bring my blue-skinned and fur-covered civilization to it's knees in a handful of matches but after about 10 minutes, the developers took over and rescued me from a certain doom. And I mean doom, because my city was surrounded and there was a busload of the enemy awaiting me. I'm just going to leave the rest of the gameplay details to the developers and stay on topic. It's safe to say that my fledgling civilization was a mess. Here's a look at the resulting (and resulting) leader portraits after the match: Diplomacy just feels so incredibly powerful in Civilization V compared to the past games. Because of the slightly smaller map and the increase in units in your army (from 60 to 120), you'll need to think twice
