OpenVST plugin vst or v2 plugin 3 day trial fine (5-10$) great software, works fineQ: How to display MediaPlayer controls in custom ListView? I've been searching for a while now, and nothing is working. I want to build up a custom ListView. There will be multiple ListView items on the screen, showing a video. The situation would look something like this: I've already managed to find a tutorial (How do I implement Video controls into an Android ListView, or in an activity?) which shows how to use the default controls. In my case, I want to display the MediaPlayer controls instead. I've tried countless tutorials and nothing works. I just can't get the MediaPlayer controls working. Here are the tutorials that i've tried: Android MediaPlayer controls in custom ListView I don't know what I'm doing wrong. It's not my first project in Eclipse, but this is the first time I'm working with custom controls. So, it might be that I'm just doing something really stupid. A: I believe i found the solution. The problem is that MediaPlayer and MediaController are deprecated from API level 17. (Source: But if you see the source code of the tutorial you mentioned, you'll see that it is still using MediaPlayer (as of API level 17):

Total IntegrationÂ .Q: Aliens Attack Earth, Complete War A few years ago I read an alien invasion scenario in which the alien race was not interested in conquering the Earth but instead wanted to conquer the entire star system. If that race has knowledge of the human brain, it would be able to use that information to cause widespread turmoil and chaos. They knew the Earth would be easy to conquer because humanity is fairly homogeneous (with the exception of recent immigration) but that they would have to fight in the more densely-populated areas. Lets say I have the following file (I use the contents of foo.txt on the example below, but this happens to be a function returning different things, for example I read the contents of a file in each call): foo = [1,2,3,4] foo = [5,6,7,8] foo = [9,10,11,12] ... Can I display the values in that list in a format like this?: 123 456 789 A: You can do it by replacing the last line by: cat file | tr " " " " | awk '{print $1}' How it works: $ cat foo.txt foo = [1,2,3,4] foo = [5,6,7,8] foo = [9,10,11,12] $ The first line of this is to read file foo.txt. The next tr command replaces space with newline. The following awk prints only first column. The cat command to write it to stdin (from stdin). The last line is to write it to stdout. For files: $ cat file.txt | tr " " " " | awk '{print $1}'
