The diffusional characteristics of deuterium (2H) in normal tissues and tumors have been investigated in anesthetized rats using the noninvasive 2H magnetic resonance (MR) diffusion-weighted echo-planar imaging (DWI). The apparent diffusion coefficient (ADC) and longitudinal (L) and transverse (T) relaxation times were determined as a function of 2H frequency (approximately 1-20 MHz) in tumors with and without necrosis. In the Absence of diffusion, the measured L and T depended only on the 2H Larmor frequency (f(2H)) at a fixed frequency-to-ADC (f/ADC) ratio. The L depended on (2H) for hornoric tissues, while the T varied with f(2H) only for necrotic tumors. The measured ADCs depended on f(2H) for both necrotic and non-necrotic tumors, and the ADC did not vary with f(2H) for necrotic tumors. The predicted 2H diffusion mechanism in tumors was qualitatively confirmed by these results. I just love this little blondie:) he is so sweet! Today I met Adam and Rosie Leming, a couple I'd never met before who are expecting their second baby boy in July! They have a little girl, 4 years old, and I just love her, as do Adam and Rosie. They invited me to their home to meet their family and get a glimpse of their new baby boy, who they have named "Logan." They said Logan is a very well respected name in Canada, and is a combination of "Lewin" which is their middle name. During the shower they took me on a little tour through their home! I was just in love with everything! I love you super cute couple, and I can't wait to meet this little "Logan" in about two weeks! Eden Hazard Will Not Settle For The Europa League If Chelsea Win Eden Hazard will not settle for the Europa League if Chelsea win the Premier League on Sunday, as he explained his decision to withdraw his name from the transfer list. The Belgian international penned a new five-year contract with the Blues last month, having turned down improved terms from rivals Paris St Germain. Hazard is considered one of Europe's most promising young players, but he believes that winning another major title could attract the offer he is looking for. "I don't want to play Europa League football. I want to play Champions League football. For that to happen, we need to win the league," he told a press conference. "Winning the league is the ultimate goal for Chelsea. This is why I signed my new contract with the club. "I am in love with the club. I want to be at Chelsea for the next 10 years. That is why I signed. "I want to win the Champions League. That is what I want to do. I signed to stay in Chelsea. "This is my aim. That is why I signed." However, despite Hazard's pledge to be at Stamford Bridge for at least the next decade, it remains to be seen whether the 24-year-old can force his way into a new three-year contract which is currently being negotiated. And despite his chances of playing in the Champions League next season could be harmed by a record of performances such as Tuesday's performance against Tottenham, the striker is reluctant to give up on the hope of being a part of a squad which is going for the title. He added: "I am happy to stay at the club. I am ready to play every game and win the title. "We will see what happens in the future,
