It is 2355, the day of the designated coup. You are "The Commander". One of the most feared soldiers of the Normandy soldier, you have been posted to Nazarick to lead an attack against the evil there. It's your duty to save the souls of the many civilians you now protect, and the troops on the front lines. The Ninja are attacking from the back, and cyborgs everywhere. You have a fully-automatic military sniper rifle and laser sights. You have one clip of ammunition and no health or armor. If you get hit, you die. Your mission is to make it to the top of the hill, where a helicopter can pick you up, and escape with the code for the operation's completion. Good luck. SCRIPTS: as you'll see, i use keybinds for everything. THE HIGHLIGHTS This is a fairly complex simulation, and every single line of code is a very simple simulation, with a few things like saving your location in what you're building on the map. I spent a little time on 4chan to get the proper permissions for the server (you can't show a picture of a gun in a chat room) and people who can play, and also how to make it run the sound and video. There is a lot of progress and features that I have added, but I'm not posting the entire list of them all.

Stabbed Restaurant Owner During Knife Fight Police expect restaurant owner to recover from injuries after attacker allegedly slashed driver's eyes Police say the restaurant owner was stabbed in the chest during the knife fight with a parking garage employee. On Thursday, the victim's family told police that their father was stabbed in the chest and remains in an induced coma at a local hospital. "He's in severe trauma," a law enforcement source told ABC News. "It's still being treated as a potentially life threatening situation. The family obviously is cared." Police are saying the stabbing occurred because of a dispute about parking at the extended hours restaurant on Essex St. This is a case of domestic violence, which is "a terrible tragedy" the source said. The couple had been together for several months and had talked of marriage, it was revealed Wednesday. The suspect was arrested Wednesday night. Police say the driver was a regular employee of the Ramside Restaurant and that he "unknowingly escalated the situation and walked away from the service of his employer." The employee, who has not been identified, is believed to have been shot in the face. Records show the offender was shot and is facing homicide charges. The "shooting is not believed to be an act of self-defense," said a police source, who says the "defendant used the firearm to strike the victim multiple times." The source stressed that the victim had not used a firearm in the attack and that the suspect brought a gun with him into the altercation. Police say the last words of the victim were "I love you baby" to the suspect. The suspect host have police say the victim was "carrying a firearm." The victim's siblings told ABC News that they do not know who the suspect is and that they don't believe their father is an "exception to the rule." Said one sibling: "This is a normal guy that got in a fight. This is not an exception to the rule. This is a guy that got into it with a co-worker." A police source said investigators are still piecing toge
