Based on the Norse mythology, “The Lord of the Rings” universe has become one of the biggest media franchises in the history. Established from J.R.R. Tolkien’s book “The Lord of the Rings”, the official website and the productization system of the game have become pillars of the game development. The official website provides a comprehensive source of information, and provides various game contents related to “The Lord of the Rings”. The beta version of the game was held in summer of 2017. Since then, more than 50,000 users participated in the test version. “The Lord of the Rings” is published as a global brand of Square Enix Co., Ltd. Isolation of Cryptococcus neoformans from domestic pigeons in Nigeria. Epidemiologic information suggests that pigeons are the natural reservoir for Cryptococcus neoformans and that transmission of cryptococcosis to humans may be occurring through direct contact with infected pigeons. However, the possibility of transmission to humans through pigeon droppings, which could serve as a vehicle for dissemination, has not been thoroughly studied. We tested thirty-five domestic pigeons for the presence of C. neoformans by using a formalin-gelatin technique. C. neoformans was isolated from 2 pigeons. The species was identified by using an optochin test, gas chromatography/mass spectrometry, and the sterol profile method. The isolates were pathogenic when tested in nude mice. The 2 isolates were identified as C. neoformans var. grubii by using G1 fingerprinting. These results suggest that domestic pigeons may be one source of C. neoformans in the environment.

Q: Why do I get UnhandledPromiseRejectionWarning when calling this promise function? This function is required to be called when the user successfully enters the required data via the API endpoint. The data is then given to a completion block, which invokes the finish() function to call a set of 2 functions. The console shows 'UnhandledPromiseRejectionWarning: Error: "Unable to load image..."' is shown, whilst none of the functions are called. .requestData(formKey, completion: { (data, err) in if err!= nil { fatalError("Error: \({err!.
