A Little Story

The Mayor is the master of all the villages who is surrounded by a group of buxom young women.

Each girl wants to be the one to marry him. Otherwise the Mayor is going to sell them.

In your quest to become the Mayor, you will have to defeat all the girls to win all the battles against the enemy.

If you pass the level, you will receive the points that are necessary to become the best at the game and to get the girl of your dream.

Don't worry if your hero is defeated, the girl is still looking for your love. You have time because the mayor is great and deserves your attention.

If you wait, she will come to you.

How to play this game?

- First of all, the game needs files of a special kind.
- The Game is made in Unity 3d and uses ScriptableObject container.
- ComicBookContainer component is necessary to Load icons from the comicbook!
- If you don't have Visual Studio installed, you can use the prebuilts MSBuild C# Compiler: Thanks Steven
- I have only release the game without the levels of every comic artist because of licensing matters.
  If you want the levels, you can see them.
