The Elden Ring is an RPG where you take on the role of a Tarnished Lord that has received a powerful Elixir from the heavens and has gained new life. The sky-road that connects the dreary of the Lands Between with its heart, the lands of the Elden. It is a land full of light and life. A land in which the battles against three armies are fought over the skies, while their foothold on the battlefield are in the lowly Lands Between. The sky is where you seek your destiny. The battle before you is no longer a struggle for your life, but for control of the skies. For a Tarnished Lord who has received a valuable gift from the heavens, there is no greater burden than this. The Kingdom of Elden is now yours! The Lands Between The Lands Between is a land constantly being torn apart by elemental forces of nature. It is a place in which the strongest minions of nature stand their ground, in a battle of elemental power. The Lands Between is the main battlefield for three armies. The Elden Ring is a fantasy action RPG that follows a traditional plot of a knight that was transformed by the power of the heavens and went on a journey to seize an army's power. The World The world of the game has three main terrains, each in which you will face different battles. Normal Terrain The peaceful lands of the normal terrain, a common reference in the material world. A land full of greenery with a wide variety of challenges and stories. Forest Terrain A land of ferocious beasts where you will work with other adventurers in order to defeat the evils that hold the land in darkness. The Shadows Terrain A land of darkness and magic. A place where the four elements and dark magics flow endlessly. A land where numerous demons and evil characters live in the shadows. Personal Backgrounds The "Lands Between" that we live in are not always fun and cheerful places. Besides that, monsters, monsters, and monsters. The future of Tarnished

We are striving for the best, and we have prepared Tarnished as a product in order to live up to the expectations of players.

It was the testing of a single prototype that led to the ETAB being able to test the experience of our players.

Furthermore, not only have we studied the feedback, but we have also started to incorporate the feedback into our process, just as we have already begun working on and testing the next campaign. We will be able to prepare for the continuous feedback from our fans in the future.

We would like to work on new scenarios that will excite people on the net a lot, and support it with the development of more friendly and user-friendly games. We will be working on new characters we have not announced here.

Of course, Tarnished will come back into the spotlight, along with the next product. We want to share the improved Tarnished with everyone who played the previous product.

Pre-orders on Playism will begin in October. We will provide more detailed information at a later date.

Thank you everyone for your continued support!
