
How To Edit a Photoshop Image Using Elements

Part II ## Word Processing In this part... W (word processing) and O (Office) programs have been together since early versions of the Macintosh. Together, they enable people to develop, edit, correct, and organize documents at a variety of levels of complexity. Q: Types of Volcanoes? Is there a name for the types of volcanoes? Intuitively I'd think there would be 'shield' and 'plate' type, but that's just from my understanding so far.

A: Modern volcano types are generally divided into four main types: Vesicular, with a steep-sided cone and a large amount of lava flows. Mantled, with a gently sloping cone and a small amount of lava flows. Plate, with a broad, flat-topped volcanic edifice, either a shield volcano or a composite volcano with both a central lava dome and a peripheral pluton. Dry-air, with very little lava flows from the general topography. You can find descriptions of the many different types of volcanic eruptions and the differences between them at LBL Volcanology. That page also includes several different types of volcanoes as illustrations, including those with a shield or composite type morphology. May 18, 2012 (LifeSiteNews.com) - An associate professor of music at a Texas university lost his job this week after he refused to bow to the “gay lobby” by performing his wedding song at a lesbian “wedding”. So the lesbian husband and wife who entered into civil union two years ago at their own expense, and then applied for a marriage license, got the full wedding experience this week thanks to Keith Lavane of Willamette University. According to the Northwest News Network: “I had a gay student write me and say, ‘Hey I want you to play your song because I want to get married,’” he said. “I’ve had emails from people saying their parents have had a baby and they want the music to be a song that their baby can hear when the mom and the dad is walking out of the room,” Lavane said. Lavane, who played the guitar on a video titled “Departures” in support of the LGBT community, refused to take part in the “wedding”, stating, “I don’t believe in it.” So, as he is scheduled to enter into a second year as an associate professor at the university, he was fired. Lavane says he was told that he couldn't refuse
