- Mouse: You have 60 seconds to catch the cat - Keyboard: You have 60 seconds to catch the cat Rules:- It is not allowed to jump into other players - It is not allowed to use techniques (Bricks, etc...) - It is not allowed to use set features (Wallop, etc...) - It is not allowed to run on a brick in case of a wallop - You must begin the game immediately when you start! Edit:I fixed some bugs, mouse now uses Brick Jump in case the cat is jumping on the brick, fixed some bad graphics and I added...Brick effect! Play Man or Machine (Mech), inspired by the work of Michael A. Stackpole. The game is a mix of man and machine (yes i know it is confusing) but what can i say, i love this game. You play as a robot, running, jumping and smashing your way through a number of enemy soldiers, tanks, wagons and other obstacles. The difficulty increases as you proceed through the game, but the game is so addictive that you can play it again and again to see what little improvements you can get. - A stable engine able to handle a lot of concurrent players, build, map and be aware of their players' movements - The ability to handle a big number of players, it has to be able to handle at least 100 players - The player is supposed to be notified when they get killed - The ability to handle a number of player movements, respawning the player, but you have the possibility of respawning them a number of times, plus you can change the number of times you respawn the player - The ability to spawn the player outside of the build, without the need of building a structure - Gamepad support and keyboard support So all in all i'm looking for someone who can take my idea, modify the game, remake it as a mod and make it happen, if you can do all this, i'd be happy to support you in this crazy crazy world. isometric view is the best for this game.If you prefer the new overlay map from smite, give us the URL of the overlay map and send it to us. Help our game along the route, build some bluffs so that the game can flow much better. Flak2Face Games is currently in development at Adult Swim Games (formerly known as The Behemoth)

Quests & Rewards - Halo: Reach December 27, 2012, 05:01 PM Thanks a lot for using large avatars!!! I totally agree that they look better on the page. I've been thinking for a while about how to make this site better. Here at the top of the thread is basically my thoughts on it: Anyway, here's what I'd like to do. Give a little more structure as to how the quests and rewards can be found. That way you can do a little bit of research first and know exactly what you're looking for and where. Your place on the quest list will also be a unique identifier. My idea is a little different. It'd look like this: If you click on a new location, it will pull in what area you are looking to and you can see what quests you would find there. For example, you go to the Tower of Alef to kill some ODSTs. You click on Tower of Alef and it brings up a list of ODST's you'd see there. You can check out what other activities you can do there. If you click on Cartisano, it would bring up a list of what you can find there: armor, weapons, emblems... If a legendary is in an ODST room, then you can check out what quests you'd have to do to get it. If you are looking to find a legendary in, say, a level 15 Infinity, the info would be there: if you goto the Infinity and look at the level cap of 15, you can see what legendary pertains to that cap. If that Legend happens to be something related to Covenant (say, an emblem to make you an ODST), then you can click on that and it brings up a list of that legendary. For example, there's a legendary of 4 off the Infinity that lets you play it as the Prophet. You'd see that through the top 10, you can see the quest/reward available. If you click on one, it would fill in the rest of it. If you click on the other side and then back, it would show you another list of both quests and rewards. If you click on Paladin, it would pull up
