System.getProperty(String) in Tomcat/NetBeans without changing the properties file? I am writing some Java code to read from a properties file. I can run the code with java -cp.:classpath org.test.AppBut what I really want to do is to run it with java -cp.:classpath org.test.App -D some.property=somevalue The problem with this is that Eclipse warns me that it is not possible to change system properties at runtime. How would I have to change the Java code so that this would work? What would I have to do to remove the warning? A: I found out that I can use the setSystemProperty() method.
