At 94, Eleanor is still working for it. In a commencement speech to the University of Iowa last month, she recounted how she worked to elect the first female president. "What I wanted to do was to help get a woman elected president," said the former first lady, who would live to see this happening in 1980. "I did my duty as a citizen and I looked for every way I could to help and I studied it all and I campaigned and I wrote letters and made speeches." "I studied and I studied, and I did my duty as a citizen and I did the best I could do and I couldn't have done any more, but it was not enough," she said. Though the party she led now has a majority in the Senate and House, Republicans are still focused on electing a female President Hillary Clinton. Read Morel have a question. I have been reading some of your posts and I am very curious about the medication that I take. Is it safe for my children to eat the turkey bacon? I understand that sometimes there is stuff in our food that can affect children. I am just wondering if I should tell my kids they can't eat the bacon. As with anything, it is safe to eat according to what you need to do. If it is for your health, be safe. I don't think it is likely for anything to affect your children. Just be sure to check on your usual indicators. I have a question. I have been reading some of your posts and I am very c6a93da74d
