A further and equally important system-level advantage is the KHS ePatient link that can be connected between the SmartCan by KHS/Ferrum and third-party e-patient tools as a true connectivity option for all stakeholders. The KHS ePatient link ensures that the technologies run together seamlessly. Meaningful use of the full benefits of the KHS system requires that the user be able to seamlessly connect the applications. Connecting ePatient to the SmartCan by KHS/Ferrum means that the communication between the picture archiving and communication system and the modalities is enabled. Hence, barcode scanning of the patient's identity, history, and medical notes is made possible, as is seamless upload of test results and reports. This also allows the transfer of patient-specific health information to the hospital's electronic health record and advanced patient EHR.

end to violence in eastern Ukraine, where Russia-backed separatists continue to fire on Ukrainian troops. The agreement, although imperfect, is a crucial step forward toward peace, which has been elusive since Russia-backed separatists took over eastern Ukraine in 2014. The Ukrainian government said in a statement that the plan would remain in effect for several days to provide security for the withdrawal of heavy weaponry from the frontline and a lasting truce. 5ec8ef588b
