My second question is this: Can I use the offline profile with Multiplayer, too? I played Gating for a while, but I haven't played in Multiplayer for a long time. I am afraid of a Multiplayer crash. It has happened a few times, but I don't know when it happened and what the reason for the crash was. Another thing that annoys me, is that there was no option to download the latest patches when you click "GTA IV Main Menu -> Patching" on the manual activation of the game. (If you do not know what patching is, then we do not see whether you understand what I am talking about). There was no download link for the latest patches, so we assume that Rockstar already released them. Maybe Rockstar thought that this was enough. Therefore they do not need to add a link to download updates. However, you will never know if you have updates. There are new patches, e.g. for the achievements. They are released on a weekly basis - usually on a Tuesday and then again a Wednesday. Unfortunately, you will not be notified of the new patches via email. You have to wait for the next version of the patch. To check if its working, open the game and try to load it. If it works, your profile should show up in the list of profiles available to play offline. To check if your network settings are up to date, you may choose to install the GFWL application if you dont already have it installed. Once the game is installed, choose Add a profile from the main menu and its the exact same process as activating. The console will still be able to be set to offline when a game is already in progress. 5ec8ef588b
