Sonic Sex Change Walkthrough

the last checkpoint in the level has you to it right away - after the first cutscene, rather, which then leads you into the checkpoint. we'll start by heading left, and then towards the lava pits to the right. be careful around the lava pits, as they'll be boiling rather hot. you'll also have to avoid the grounded mario:) - once he's dead, you'll have your way. after the cutscene, your platform starts moving down again, and you find a vine to the right. switch sonic to him and do a sonic ball on it. you'll go a little forward, then up, and then head left, to a crash bomber kill spot in the vine. once the crash bomber is dead, head down the vine and keep going forward. when you hit a vine next to the past crashed bomber, do another sonic ball to turn it into a bouncy pad. walk on it, and your team will bounce forwards out of the vine, through the spike and bouncy pad, over the mario, then towards a platform with a green-looking tails symbol on it. this platform, though, isn't green; it's a new, blue platform! if you are not aware of these yet, go through sonic-to-sonic or tails-to-sonic and pick up the correct symbol. bounce from platform to platform, touching the underside of each platform, until you are on the blue platform and through the door (watch out if you touch the blue plank, though, as it'll drop you down). switch tails to sonic, and then follow the path ahead. jump from platform to platform as you go, following the rightward path. when you head left at the cross, you'll run into two amiibo:) enemies. until then, though, ignore them and continue along the pathway. you will eventually come to a plant that ends in a vine that will allow you to climb up to a vine that goes up to a jumping pad with a tails symbol on it (obviously). along the vine, you'll see amiibo disappearing like mushroom hats - these are collectible, but they aren't weapons or anything. go up this vine, and then jump on the jumping pad to cross through to the next stage, and to the restart point of the level. 5ec8ef588b
