Gta Iv Police Packl ^HOT^

the lspd police cruiser is a 1968 international harvester police interceptor, based on the crown victoria model. in addition to the vehicle, it is also equipped with a police computer, which allows niko to carry out the vigilante side-mission, and call in backup. in gta v, the police cruiser reappears with a modernized and lighter appearance, based on a 1998-2011 police interceptor, with a new body style, redesigned front and rear bumpers, and redesigned rear lights. this version is only available for police use, and its usage is rather decreased, as the police interceptor has replaced the car as the lspd's main vehicle for missions and wanted levels. the lspd police cruiser also has a civilian model, but this version is only available in the lost and damned, and as such, can't be used in missions or the multiplayer modes in gta v. in the lost and damned, it appears as an all-black vehicle that resembles a normal civilian car, but also serves as a getaway vehicle for the drug dealer faz. "the police department is working closely with the city of charlottesville to bring services to the community at this time and to ensure the safety of our residents," charlottesville police chief al thomas said. "we are ready to assist the charlottesville police department and the commonwealth's attorney's office should the need arise." details are limited. the chicago police department did not have any information about the incident and said, "we are unable to comment." more than 100 police agencies from across the u.s. are contributing to the effort.
