Coding and Analyzing are the important steps during the communication processes, that can help the evaluation of speech and the improvement of them. The purpose of this study was to find out the results and the experience of students studying EFL (English as a Foreign Language) from codified, 6-on-coded English speech to gain valuable knowledge and experience to improve the evaluation of speech processes and to develop the communicative competence in the students. This study used a method of experimental design with case study design and it was applied to a group of students studying EFL. The result of the study show that the use of SCA (Statistical Content Analysis) is very effective in evaluating the components of the speech, as well as in analyzing the importance of the language rules of the speech. Therefore, the result of the study shows that the use of SCA is very useful to gain new knowledge and experience about communication processes. Anggrah, F. 2010.
